

Ms. Sacha Taylor is the Founder and President of Nannies + more...[®], where she oversees and manages the operations in each of the company's six offices in Atlanta, Georgia; Bethesda, Maryland; Boca Raton, Florida; Dallas, Texas; New York City, New York and Stamford, Connecticut.

Ms. Taylor and Nannies + more...[®] have been featured in numerous magazine publications, including Atlanta Business Chronicle, Atlanta Magazine & Women Looking Ahead. She has also served as an informational source to various local, national and international media outlets, most recently: ABC News; Consumer Reports; The Wall Street Journal; Richmond Times-Dispatch; TBS-Tokyo Broadcasting System International (TBSI); Palm Beach Post; People Magazine; NBC Nightly News; the Chicago NBC affiliate, NBC5; Parenting Magazine; VH-1; Atlanta Parent and the Atlanta Journal-Constitution. In 2007, Ms. Taylor was named as a Top-5 Finalist for the Atlanta Small Business Person of the Year by the Metro-Atlanta Chamber of Commerce.

As the spouse of Georgia's 10th Lieutenant Governor and now currently, in the private sector, Ms. Taylor exhibits her passion for the welfare of Georgia's children and their access to quality education and healthcare. During her tenure as Georgia's 'Second Lady,' she had the honor of leading the 'Georgia Municipal Association's Annual Mayors' Christmas Motorcade', continuing the tradition of presenting holiday gifts gathered around the state by local municipalities for the patients of Georgia's state mental health hospitals.

Ms. Taylor is actively involved in organizations serving the community. In 2007, she led efforts as Co-Chair for the 15th Annual Jeffrey Fashion Cares in netting $700,000 for its beneficiaries, Atlanta AIDS Partnership Fund (AAPF) and Susan G. Komen for the Cure—Greater Atlanta Affiliate. She is also Co-Chairing the organization's 2008 event. She serves on the U.S. Fund for UNICEF Southeast Regional Chapter Board of Directors and the Board of Directors for Girl Talk, Inc., a national nonprofit organization that desires to inspire young teenagers to build self-esteem. In 2008, she will also Chair the Turner Foundation's X-Mas Party and the Dian Fossey Gorilla Fund Fall Soiree. She also commits her time to the High Museum of Art's Annual Wine Auction, where she is serving on their 16th Annual Event Planning Committee. Ms. Taylor is the 2008 Honorary Auction Chair for the 20th anniversary of the Share Our Strength's 2008 Taste of the Nation Atlanta Event. Formerly, she served three years as Chairman for the Center for Puppetry Arts League Community Placement.

She also is a Life Member of: the University of Georgia's National Alumni Association, a member of the Daughters of the American Revolution, as well as, the Colonial Dames XVII Century. She also is a member of the Metro-Atlanta Chamber of Commerce. Ms. Taylor also has judged a number of Miss America Georgia Preliminary Pageants, most recently including Miss Albany and Miss Cobb County.

Ms. Taylor possesses a Masters in Business Administration from the Terry College of Business at the University of Georgia and Bachelor of Arts degree in Journalism from the Grady College of Journalism also from University of Georgia. Additionally, she has studied at Harris Manchester College and Balliol College at Oxford University in Oxford, England.

Ms. Taylor is a member of Cathedral of St. Philip in Atlanta.